ANL SUITS ARE ON TRIAL NOW.

Stiff's Claim Connellville Man Sold Them Worthless Stock.

DENIES THE ALLEGATION

Stock Was Just as He Represented It When Sold and If Any Losses Are Sustained, He, Too, Was a Victim—Other Court Notes.

UNIONTOWN, April 1.—Three of the suits against Dr. S. S. Stahl of Allegheny to recover on alleged worthless mining stock were called for trial this morning and a jury was not selected. When court was at a 1 o'clock adjournment on trial will begin. Judge R. E. Unruh presiding.

William Cochran, suing for $5,000; J. Young, $2,500 and William Meyer, $2,500, and the plaintiffs. They claim that in 1901 they bought stock in a mining company operating in Colorado, California, upon Dr. Stahl's representation that the ore was as high as $90 a ton. They say this is not correct. Attorney D. Hertzog who represents the plaintiffs went to California and spent a month investigating the matter. He is reported that the gold has not as high as $5 or $6 a ton, but it will only run $1 a ton, and is not a paying quantity. According to the defense which was brought out, Dr. Stahl claims the stock was worth just what he represented at the time but the holders were frightened. He also says they wanted the stock for a long time. Further, he himself, in the stock, and sustained as well as the plaintiffs, if any sustained. Hertzog and D. W. Hertzog are the attorneys for the plaintiffs, while Robinson, McKean and Hertzog are defending Stahl.

Judge Van Swearingen this morning the suit of Joseph Silver at the West Side Land Company. Silver wants $100 damages to be paid to him for the loss of the stock in front of his house in West Brownsville was $100.

Attempt of Life Insurance Companies in Court Fails.
NEW YORK, April 1.—(Special.)—The attempt of the big life insurance companies to have nullified by the courts that section of the New York insurance laws which limits the amount of business they may do annually, failed. Justice Gorman of the Supreme Court today handed down a decision declaring that section of the State law constitutional.

COUNTY SURVEYOR'S INDEXING TO GO ON

Amended Contract With County Surveyor J. B. Hogg Approved By New Board of Commissioners.

UNIONTOWN, April 1.—After calling in the old Board of County Commissioners to secure data regarding an amended contract with County Surveyor J. B. Hogg regarding the indexing in the surveyor's office, the County Commissioners have ratified the former action and will draw warrants according to the statements rendered by Mr. Hogg.

A misunderstanding arose on the subject recently over the fact that the county surveyor's bills exceeded the amount specified in the first contract made for the indexing work. This provided that Mr. Hogg was to receive $5 per day and his assistant $2.50 per day. Later the work was seen to be of far greater magnitude than was realized at first and Mr. Hogg was authorized to employ two draughtsmen at $5 per day and an assistant at $2.50 per day. Through an oversight this was not put on the original record and Commissioner W. S. Blaney demanded that the matter be investigated.

As a result ex-Commissioners M. E. Townsend, John S. Graham and A. J. Stantz were called into conference with the present board and the indexing committee, named some years ago. This committee consists of Judges J. Q. Van Swearingen, George D. Stewart and D. W. McDonald. The arrangement was approved by all and a supplemental contract was signed by the old board of commissioners.

Mr. Hogg stated that he expects to complete the new index by the end of the present year.

"My father is in heaven," said Smith and "I am still on my way to get him to go my bull."

RABIES AFFECT SHEEP.

Disease Is Spreading in Western Pennsylvania.
CANONSBURG, Pa., April 1.—Rabies, which several weeks ago robbed farmers in this vicinity of more than 300 sheep, has broken out afresh and the State authorities have been appealed to for aid. The disease has appeared at a dozen farms within the last three days and is continuing to spread. Farmers are killing the sheep at the first sign of the disease.

The flock of Joshua Dickerson has been almost wiped out in the last 24 hours. Fifteen of his most valuable ewes succumbed. Mr. Dickerson's sheep, at fair sale last fall, were considered the best in Western Pennsylvania.

Heavy reductions in the number of ovens operated, in aggregate output and in total shipments, from both regions marked the week. Upwards of 1,100 ovens were banked including nearly 600 by the H. C. Frick Coke Company, the remainder being at independent plants. Total production for both regions had a big falling off, figures showing that the decrease in coke made amounted to 13,500 tons as compared to the preceding week. Shipments from both regions totalled 215 cars less than the week before but the falling off in shipments did not keep pace with the lessened production. At this writing the region contains about the same amount of standing loads of coke as it did one week ago. With talk of blast furnaces being shut down in the valleys and the Pittsburgh district, the outlook is not particularly encouraging for the immediate present.

There has been a disposition to blame poor conditions in the coke industry on the fact that the independent plants have failed to stand together in the matter of price in the past, and to this end the recent understanding among certain independents was reached. But even this understanding has failed to maintain the price of coke. This, for the simple reason as pointed out by The Weekly Courier, that it is entirely a question of supply and demand. The supply of coke has been far beyond the demands of the market and there has been keen competition to get some of the business. A reversal of the condition would just as inevitably send prices up, in proportion to the demands of the trade.

The principal development of the week was the closing down by the H. C. Frick Coke Company of almost as many ovens as it fired, some weeks ago, although the same plants were not affected. This interest has been piling up considerable coke on the yards for a couple of weeks and the shutdown followed when it was found that the Steel Corporation furnaces did not need the coke. Some of the Corporation furnaces are receiving coke from outside plants in the region under special contracts made a long time ago.

Coke prices remain weak, and the market drags. It was reported that one small lot of Connellville coke was sold in the East at $1.50 per ton, but if the report be true it has little significance as the lot was small and in the hands of a broker. Prices for spot coke continue to range from $1.65 to $1.75 per ton and some concern with a special product are getting better prices than the latter figure. Foundry coke continues fairly strong and active. Quotations are as follows:

Spot furnace coke, $1.65 to $1.75; furnace coke for delivery during the last three quarters, $1.75 to $2.00, according to grade; spot foundry coke, $2.00 to $2.25; foundry coke for delivery during the last three quarters, $2.00 to $2.25, according to grade.

THIS IS DAY OF MOVES AND FOOLS.

Some are Flitting While Others Are Playing Pranks on Their Neighbors.

THE WEATHER IS VERY GOOD

Sun Shone Bright and Day Is Mild One Superstitious Are Observing Carefully the Time Honored Rules of Etiquette.

April first—All Fools' Day and one of many flittings. That is today and many were the signs of relief when the sun shone clear this morning and there was only a slight haze to obscure its rays.

The transfer men are busy today handling a large number of movings, although some were made yesterday. There will be little doing for them tomorrow as it is regarded by the superstitious as a bad omen to move on Friday.

There is a demand for brooms in some quarters where it is looked upon as bad luck to take an old broom away, while the family cat is showing its reluctance to follow the family as it should to insure continued prosperity.

About the dog? Dogs don't count in the Book of Signs. You can't lose them anyhow.

The small boy and the one pot-smaller, both with their endings today, resorted to various tricks and subterfuges to play pranks on his unsuspecting neighbor. Sometimes he succeeded but other times he failed. His pranks out of the proceedings at all events.

It is doubtful if any staid and dignified citizen went so far as to risk smothering a few legs by kicking violently at an innocent looking headgear which concealed a brick; or the same portly gentleman risked catching a "crick" in his back, reaching for an apparently well filled pocketbook that contained waste paper, but he did look quickly behind him at the information he had dropped his pocket-handkerchief.

Indications this morning were that this would be a comparatively sane All Fools' Day but there is no telling what a small, mischievous lad can conceive to stir up trouble.

BREWERY WORKERS NOT TO STRIKE.

Differences Between Men and Employers Was Settled Last Night.

NO RAISE IN WAGES COMING

Men Wanted a 10 Per Cent. Raise But Employers Said Times Were Too Hard—Old Scale Is Renewed for Period of Two Years.

It is reported on good authority that the trouble between the brewers of the county and the brewery workers have effected an amicable settlement of the dispute which has been on for some weeks and which for sometime threatened to result in a general strike. The brewery workers struck two years ago but an amicable settlement was reached after considerable difficulty.

The men this week demanded an increase of 10 per cent. in wages and six drinking periods in the eight-hour working day. The companies objected strenuously to this, especially the increase, claiming that business conditions did not warrant the payment of higher wages. The men were adamant and threatened to strike but at Uniontown last night a meeting was held where the matter was settled.

The brewery workers have signed the old scale, which will remain in force for a period of two years. Rumors of a strike caused the hotel men in all parts of the county to fortify themselves and had trouble resulted most of them would have been in good shape.

CITIZENS BALK AT "FIFTH AVE."

If Street Committee Expected to Make a Hit With Name It Failed.

MOVE FROM BAD TO WORSE

Is What Number of Citizens Said this Morning—Why Change Unless Some Improvement Is Made? They Ask Remonstrance Coming.

If the Street Committee of Town Council attempts to label Main street of Greater Connellville "Fifth Avenue" it will run against the strongest opposition that has ever opposed a measure in that body. The matter of renaming thoroughfares had been given but little interest until the announcement was made that the Committee had decided upon the aforesaid cognomen. Then the people along the street awoke with a vengeance and have talked little else since.

One prominent man whose business house is located on Main street, almost lost his temper when he heard of the latest move of the Street Committee.

"I'll sign any remonstrance that is brought around here and do it quick. I don't mind changing the name of the street if they get a name worthy of the town, but I certainly will object to any attempt to ape some other town."

"It is a joke," said another, "to label the street Fifth Avenue. There is no reason for it and then Main street could not be compared with Fifth Avenue of New York or Pittsburg. If we had our streets numbered as avenue, Main street would not be so bad, but the appellation of Fifth Avenue in this instance is perfectly senseless."

A business man who is prominently identified with the business interests of the town said it was an insult to the town, the town's name, the town's name and the town's name. He said that the town's name was an insult to the town's name and the town's name.

"We are living in a section which is rich in Indian lore. There are Indian names which could be given the street and they would be out of the ordinary. There is no need of copying from other towns."

One citizen thought there was no need of changing the name of the street, although he offered no objection to any name selection, as he termed it.

"Buffalo, N. Y.," he said, "and Richmond, Va.," are both much larger towns than this and they have their Main street. At they are going to make any change, why not revert to the original name of Spring street. That beats Fifth Avenue."

A petition remonstrating against the proposed adoption of "Fifth Avenue" will be circulated before the next meeting of Town Council and from the sentiment expressed by fully a score of citizens, it is believed that the petition would indicate that the paper will be signed by nearly every one living or doing business on the street.

The consensus of opinion this morning seemed to favor the adoption of "Main street" as to be discarded.

IT'S A BIG DAY TODAY FOR WEALTHY

Those Who Have Financial Dealings Are Straightening Up Affairs For The Year.

This is the busiest day of the year at the First National Bank. The interest on savings accounts is computed twice annually, and this is one of those days.

In addition to this, April 1 is the time most farm contracts expire and farmers are flocking into town to renew their leases and pay over their share of the crops. This is the big day for settlements in the rural section about Connellville and it is the one day in the year that the farmers are sure to come to town.

Beginning at eight o'clock those having savings accounts began appearing at the bank and they will keep it up for an hour or more after the bank has closed its business for the day. Although this is not absolutely necessary, most of the depositors like to have their interest paid or entered promptly.

To remove pimples, blackheads, blotches and all forms of skin eruptions, is according to a well known physician, a very easy matter; he says that many are afflicted with some one of the above ailments, and are subject to a great deal of embarrassment on account of the unsightly appearance which they present, and recommends the following simple harmless and inexpensive treatment. Go to your druggist and get this prescription filled: Clearola one-half ounce; Ether one ounce, Alcohol seven ounces, mix, shake well and apply to the parts affected night and morning, allowing it to remain on the skin at least ten minutes, then wipe off the powder from the skin. Use a soft cloth or sponge in applying the mixture and in from ten days to two weeks your face will be smooth and clear as a marriage bell. ## RURAL CARRIER IS PLACED UNDER ARREST

William Lieb of Fairchance is Charged With Having Opened Letters.

UNIONTOWN, April 1.—Caught in a well planned trap fixed by Postoffice Inspector E. I. Allen of Parkersburg, W. Va., William Lieb, rural carrier between Bruceton, W. Va., and Fairchance, Pa., was arrested yesterday charged with violating the postal laws by opening letters and appropriating money enclosed to his own use. In default of $500 bail he was placed in jail, after waiving a preliminary hearing.

For some time residents along Lieb's route have had letters containing money go astray and after finding fragments of their missives along the road they suspected the carrier. Complaints were sent to the Postoffice Department and E. I. Allen of Parkersburg was ordered to investigate. After working on the case a few days he made arrangements with Mrs. George Rankin, who lives a short distance from Bruceton, to send a decoy letter.

BUSINESS OBJECTION TO CHANGING STREET NAMES.

It begins to look as if the activity of the new Street Committee of Greater Conneltsville in the matter of changing the names of streets, and particularly that of Main street, had been misdirected. The proposition has elicited a great many suggestions, and almost as many differences of opinion. The selection of none of the names mentioned will meet with the approval of any considerable portion of the citizens. As a matter of policy, therefore, they had better be dropped.

THERE IS NO GOOD REASON WHY THE NAME OF MAIN STREET SHOULD BE CHANGED AT ALL, but there is at least one reason why it should NOT BE CHANGED, and this reason applies to every other street in the town for which a new name is not actually necessary to avoid confusion.

The reason, briefly, is that THE CHANGING OF STREET NAMES IS VERY CONFUSING TO THE WORK OF TRADING TRUCKS TO RE-STATE. Thousands of trucks are recorded in Fayette county wherein the boundaries of real estate in Conneltsville and New Haven are designated by the present street names. To change these names to others will materially complicate the proper establishment of chains of title and MAY BE THE MEANS OF CAUSING NO END OF TROUBLE AND EXPENSE TO THE CITIZENS PRESENT AND FUTURE.

We would, therefore, respectfully suggest to the members of the Street Committee and the Town Council that the old street names be preserved as far as possible, that Main street be continued as Main street, that such unnumbered streets as are designated by the present street names on this side of the river and West streets on the other, that is to say East First, West First, etc.

Where it is necessary to change the name of a street, it should be designated in the new borough plot which must be filed on record, as Main street itself is designated in the old plots of the town, by its last established name with a reference to the old name; for example, on the New Haven side, "Main, or Ferry Street," just as the old borough records designate it, "Main or Spring Street."

The naming of streets should also have some proper regard for the possibilities of expansion and the recognition of this feature of the matter, we withdraw any suggestions, severing of sentimentality which we may have made concerning the renaming of Main street or any other street, and commend the whole matter to the good business judgment of the authorities.

APRIL MOVING CUSTOM AND HOW TO AVOID IT. "Custom makes the law," the courts have declared, and some of the custom-made law defines the power of legislative bodies to alter it. Such, for example, is the custom which fixes the annual moving day in this section of Pennsylvania on April 1st.

It probably dates back to the early times when cities were unknown, and towns were scarce, when the American emigrants lived close to the heart of nature in the woods and fields, when questions of planting and tilling the lands made occupation of them with the first appearance of the vernal equinox not only desirable but actually necessary to the securing of full crops.

But the date is an undesirable one for town and city people, who now make up the greater portion of Pennsylvania's population. The weather is uncertain and the discomforts of moving are too often attended by the dangers of sickness. Various attempts have been made with varying success to establish as the moving date in towns and cities, May 1st. The change is desirable, but it cannot be made save by popular consent; popular consent can only be secured by each community setting up the custom; each community can establish the custom only by the activity and with the cooperation of its own people.

In other words, the landlords and tenants must get busy and establish a new and better custom by making their annual leases expire May 1.

The Burgess of Scottdale has made an onslaught against the slot machines, apparently on the ground that they are gambling devices. The average slot machine is a gambling device only in that it doesn't always work, and the weighing indicator fails to show up. In this respect alone the public takes a chance. If Scottdale has any other kind of slot machines, the edict of the Burgess is perhaps founded in more reason than appears on its face.

March came in indifferently and went out in doubt.

The dispute as to the proper applicant for a Uniontown hotel license hinges wholly upon whether the lease of the premises has a lease for the coming year. If he has the lease of the property does not divest it. He is the legal holder of the premises and the only person who has any standing in the license court.

This is the Lenten season for license applicants.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Western Penna.—Fair today; showers and warmer Friday.

More Business and Less Prices

Last week bargains were taken advantage of by a good many people and we expect still more for the week commencing Monday, March 25, and ending Saturday night, April 2. Once you realize that these reductions are on goods taken from our regular stock that the prices quoted are reductions from our regular prices then you will realize that these sales mean much to your pocketbook. Want to be honest with you and tell you that business is not as good as it should be but if little prices will make it good we are willing to do business for a while without a profit. It's a plain business proposition. That it's better to do a big business and come out even than to do a loss business and face considerable loss. That's the plain reason why we quote these goods to you at just about what they cost us. We are not exaggerating the situation and quoting you goods at 40 or 50 cents on the dollar but offering you genuine bargains that ought to fill our store every day during this coming week.

Dress Goods at 40c the Yard.

Every piece of dress goods marked to sell at 50c the yard goes for this week only at 40c the yard. This includes about 30 pieces. Every piece new this season. New shades and new fabrics. We've often asked you to judge our entire dress goods stock by the coming of goods at 50c the yard. You have the chance now to buy these at 40c the yard.

Ladies' Suits at $24

Suits that have sold for $36. Any one we have in stock at this price you can buy this week for $24. This is a suit bargain that ought to appeal to you coming as it does at the time it does. Only a few short days until Easter and this is your opportunity. Please remember the suit suits from our regular stock, not bought and marked for the occasion.

25c Gingham at 20c

You've seen the pretty Anderson gingham we've been showing at 25c the yard. Prettiest assortment of gingham we've had to show for many a year. This announcement ought to mean that every yard would be sold this week. Don't think you ever had Anderson's gingham quoted to you at 20c the yard before. Don't expect to ever quote them again at this price. Only one reason. We intend to do a big business next week and this is one of the inducements we offer you to get you to help us.

9x12 Brussels Rugs at $13.50

Rugs that sold for $16. Don't expect this offering to hold good the entire week because this price ought to sell the entire lot in two days any how. It means though every $16 rug we have in stock.

9x12 Stinson Tapestry and Velvet Rugs

Stinson Tapestry Rugs sell regularly for $22, and Stinson Velvet Rugs for $25. You can buy any one we have here during this week for $18 for the tapestry and $22 for the velvet rugs. Stinson means quality and cut like this will show you that we mean exactly what we say when we tell you that these are genuine bargains, genuine reductions from our regular prices.

These prices are for the week commencing Monday, March 25, and ending Saturday night, April 2. Come and see whether you can afford to miss such bargains as we are offering you now.

ELABORATE STYLES AT SPRING OPENING.

Mace & Company's Annual Event Brought Out Immense Crowd.

WAS ELEGANTLY ARRANGED

Store Never Looked Prettier, the Handsome Line of Merchandise, Including Newest Things in Millinery, Making it a Most Attractive Place.

A record breaking crowd attended the annual spring opening of Mace & Company held yesterday afternoon and evening. From about 9 o'clock yesterday morning until after 10 o'clock last night the large, spacious store was thronged with people who not only witnessed and admired the splendid display of merchandise on exhibition but made many purchases as well. During the day the large crowd was composed principally of women while last evening men, women and children thronged the various departments. After viewing the displays in all the departments the crowds lingered to enjoy an excellent musical program rendered by Kiefer's orchestra which was stationed in the rear of the store. The program was a special one for the occasion and delighted all who heard it.

Never did the large store look more beautiful with its attractive and tasty decorations and artistic display of merchandise. Mace & Company's openings are acknowledged by the shoppers of Connellsville and vicinity as among the greatest events of the season and are looked forward to with much interest and pleasure. On entering the store one was greeted by courteous and attractive salesladies who took a great delight in showing their customers the many new and pretty goods in their departments. A section that attracted the greatest attention was the millinery department on the second floor. That special attention is being given this department by the manager Mrs. Emma Robson was shown by the gorgeous display of millinery. All shapes of the newest designs and colors were shown in elegant hats down to the sunniest of tailored hats. Among some of the prettiest hats exhibited were the large dome shaped hats beautifully trimmed in elegant plumes. Another popular hat is the Salome hat while the large turbans were also shown in many different styles. The Gage hats and Madam Gophard hats were also shown in many styles. The leading colors are violet, wistaria, ashos of roses, while blues and browns are also very good especially in street hats. The quaint little poke bonnets with their dainty flower trimmings are also in vogue and much admired.

The suit department that adjoins the millinery department was resplendent with handsome evening gowns, suits, waists, etc. A new and stylish style in the late spring suits is the envelope suit which was shown in all the newest shades, including ashos of roses, wistaria, violet and goblin blues. Messalines, foulards and rich broadcloths were the fabrics shown in the evening gowns while not and messalines were the materials used in the handsome waists exhibited. The Empire effect was also noticed in many of the newest suits.

On the same floor is the girls' clothing and never was there such a display of suits seen in Connellsville. All the prevailing colors and styles can be had by paying a visit to this department. The dress goods department on the first floor is complete with all fabrics in all the newest weaves and colors. Artistic draperies of silks in fount and messaline adorned the counters while trimmings in gold, jet and handsome patterns in laces, Irish crochet were neatly displayed. The various show cases were stocked with a pretty display of neckwear, hosiery, gloves, jewelry, etc., as was the shoe department stocked with a complete line of oxford and shoes.

Profusions of tall ferns and palms adorned the ledges while at intervals were displayed handsome parrots in rose designs. The ladies were given carnations while cigars were presented to the men as souvenirs. The display windows were in keeping with the interior of the store.

VAUDEVILLE TODAY.

WOMAN OF MYSTERY IN KIDNAPING; BOYLE ARRIVING IN SHARON, PA.

MERCER, Pa., April 1.—All efforts of the police to learn the past history of Mrs. James Boyle, the woman held here in the Sharon kidnaping case, have failed. The prisoner stoutly refuses to throw any light on her past. Boyle also keeps silent on the subject, and the authorities are beginning to believe that they will have a difficult task in convicting the woman of any part of the crime in Pennsylvania. She says she never saw the Whittia boy until Boyle brought him to their apartments in Cleveland and had no idea that he had been kidnaped. The picture of the woman was taken for the register's gallery. The lower picture is a snapshot of Boyle's arrival at Sharon. The figures from left to right are Sheriff Chess, James Boyle and the chief of Police of Sharon.

5 and 10 cents equal to any presented heretofore at 50c, 75c and $1.00. The program will consist of vaudeville of the polka kind, just the sort of entertainment to interest family parties. The acts will be varied and new and will be supplemented by an exhibition of moving pictures representative of the highest art and the latest development along the line of motion photography.

THE CASINO.

"The Boston Belles" will be the merry burlesque offering at the Casino Theatre on Tuesday, April 6. The company comes to us both with excellent endorsements and the "Standing Room Only" sign has been much in evidence. The play promises to be a little more than is usually understood by the term burlesque, the fact is that of late years the term has been misapplied. Skits and vaudevilles have been offered under a title which in past years was to be a brilliant satire on some popular story, set to music and replete with wit and humorous situations.

The management of "The Boston Belles" has returned to this quality and offers a real burlesque, well cast, handsomely mounted and brilliantly costumed. In addition to this all the resources of electricity are commanded in making the ensemble equal to the Broadway musical comedies. The first part is a military spectacle entitled "Just Before the Battle, Brother," a two scenes and illustrating the march and camp life. This, of course, will be treated humorously, still the picturesque atmosphere will be all there. The soldiers will be girls and very pretty ones at that. "What Joy in Joy Land," a dashing musical comedy is the finale of the production which is a continuous tour of laughter.

TESTS DIVORCE LAW.

Neither Party in Virginia Harned Suit
Appears in Nevada Court.

Reno, Nev., April 1.—Two judges are hearing arguments in the divorce case of Mrs. E. H. Southern (Virginia Harned). This case involves all the technical features of Nevada's broad divorce law.

Mrs. Southern brought suit last July and a summons was served on Southern, who was then in Reno. When the trial was called neither party appeared and the testimony was in form of depositions. It is planned to make a test case of the Southern affair and in all probability the supreme court will be called on for a ruling.

NO BUSINESS OF THE PUBLIC'S

Says Harriman, How Much Railway Stocks Are Wanted.

HANDS OUT A HOT INTERVIEW

Declares "Inebriated State Senators" Make False Statements as to The Capitalization of the Alton-Best Railway Property in Illinois.

Chicago, April 1.—Edward H. Harriman arrived here from California apparently in good health and ready to talk on all subjects. While his car was in the switching yards waiting to be hitched to the train that will carry him to New York Mr. Harriman expressed a series of frank opinions on railroads and the attitude of past and present national administrations.

Speaking of the agitation against the watering of stocks by railroads and other corporations Mr. Harriman said:

"I would not have regulation by the government extend to the issuance of railroad securities, for it is none of the people's business, to put it bluntly, how much securities and in what form they issue so long as the railroad is run in the interest of the people and so long as it gives the greatest possible unit of service that lies within it.

"They said the Alton was grossly overcapitalized. And yet the Alton is today the best railroad physically in the state of Illinois. It has been made 50 per cent better for two-thirds of its original cost, and I might add that it is not bankrupt even now. It is still solvent, all the state's attorneys general and all of the legislated state senators to the contrary notwithstanding."

On tariff reform Mr. Harriman said: "If the congress had revised the tariff or given the country a good currency law, or both, we would not have had the Lands decision, and we would not have had all this wasteful prosecution of corporations, nor all of this hostile legislation against railroads and the country would today be going along swimmingly."

Government Needs Regulation. Asked how he would revise national laws affecting railroads he said: "I would begin with the Sherman anti-trust act, which is and always will be a nuisance to corporate property. After all, it is the people who own our railroads."

"What the newspapers ought to do now is to stop talking about the regulation of railroads and insist that the people begin regulating the government. They should insist, for example, that the first and chief aim of a new administration should be not to wring more money out of the people before it has learned how to expend it wisely."

"If the wasteful extravagance of governmental methods should be applied to any other business it would speedily bankrupt it."

NO AID FOR STRIKERS

Mercer-Butler Men Must Get Along Without National Assistance. Indianapolis, April 1.—The national executive board of the United Mine workers has adjourned after holding a week's session. President Lewis will leave today for a trip through the West Virginia and Pennsylvania coal fields.

The board reaffirmed its former decision not to extend financial assistance to the union miners striking in the Mercer-DuPont field of Pennsylvania.

CUBA'S EVACUATION DAY

Last of American Troops Occupying the Island Are Withdrawn. Havana, April 1.—For the first time in more than two years Cuba is free today from the presence of American soldiers. The last of the troops who have been occupying the island sailed away this morning in the transports Sumner and McClellan.

The withdrawal of the American troops is the final fulfillment of the promise of the Washington authorities that the soldiers would be sent home from Cuba when the republic showed its capacity to govern itself. The evacuation began at the time of the inauguration of President Gomez in January and has proceeded steadily. April 1 was the date fixed

CRITICISES ROOSEVELT.

Cannot See Why Anyone Would Kill an Elephant.

Fitchburg, Mass., April 1.—An interviewer here today asked General Nelson A. Miles, who is visiting a relative, for his opinion about hunting in Africa. General Miles said:

"I never could quite see why a man wants to shoot elephants, zebras and other animals wilfully. Elephants are so useful to us, you know, for they are put to work at so many things. Why, shooting at an elephant is just like pouring shot into the side of a barn. It is really too bad to kill them."

NEW STEEL PLANT

Wheeling and Steubenville Capitalists Launch the Project.

East Liverpool, O., April 1.—With the resignation of W. C. Brangham, superintendent of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company's plant at Chester, W. Va., was revealed the plan of Wheeling and Steubenville capitalists to erect at Hillside's cove, Hancock county, W. Va., one of the largest independent steel plants in this section of the country.

A 100-acre site on the Sinclair farm within easy distance of Mingo and the Ohio river has been selected for the eight-million plant project, which will give employment to 600 men. Brangham will have charge of the new plant when it is completed. He has been in charge of the Chester mill two years. He will be succeeded at Chester by George D. Evans of Sharon, Pa.

BUSINESS LOOKING UP

Iron Trade Review Today Says Mills Are Resuming Operations.

Cleveland, April 1.—The Iron Trade Review says in today's issue: "Publication of reports of very low prices on finished materials, particularly steel bars and structural shapes, has had a depressing effect, but favorable news is not entirely lacking. The leading tinplate interest is now operating 94 per cent of its capacity and there is more activity in the western mills of the Steel corporation than at any time since the panic."

"The sale of $15,000,000 in bonds of the Jones & Laughlin Steel company insures a continuation of the extensive improvement program of that important interest. Wage reductions are being made. For the most part the men are accepting the new wage schedules."

Wage Cuts by Three Companies. Lebanon, Pa., April 1.—The Lackawanna Iron and Steel company has posted notices announcing a 10 per cent reduction of wages to take effect today. The Somerset Sulphur company also announces a reduction of 10 per cent. The Cornwall Ore Banks company at Milers village has posted notices of a 10 per cent reduction in wages.

Jones & Laughlin Cut Wages. Pittsburgh, April 1.—Fifteen hundred employees of the Jones & Laughlin Steel company, not including the Lehigh Valley plant, have had their wages reduced 10 per cent.

HIS WIFE DROVE DULUTH MEAT DEALER TO IT.

In the hope that all men may profit by his experience and take heed thereof Geo. M. Beck, who lives in 807 3rd street, E., and whose business is in 230 2nd street, W., Duluth, Minn., makes public his experience which he gives below, believing it will be gratefully received by all as a relief to their present affliction. He says: "I do not think it would be fair to the Rheumaloe Remedies if I did not tell my fellow sufferers what this wonderful medicine has done for me in such a short time. I am only sorry I did not begin the treatment a week sooner for then I would have had one week less of torture. I went to the drug store on a Friday afternoon on crutches with my left foot swollen to nearly twice its natural size and so painful I could not bear the weight of it on the floor. Except one week that foot has been that way for two months. On that day my right foot was beginning to swell and pain me in the same way, and when I got home it was swollen so it hurt even the shoe I wore when I untied my shoe, and as soon as my shoe was off, it puffed up almost as large as the other. I thought I was in for a sleep of suffering, as I had no faith in the medicine, but I took it according to directions and at half-past nine o'clock I went to sleep and slept all night the first night. I had not been able to sleep for nearly a week and I've been sleeping good every night since and feeling better every day. I have not felt as well in over two months and I have not got as much relief from all the medicines I've taken in two months as I have from five days of the Rheumaloe Treatment, and I'm getting well, and have got relief quicker than I ever thought I would. My wife drove me to it, for I didn't believe enough in your advertisements to want to try Rheumaloe. I had tried so many, but she begged me to try Rheumaloe. I'm glad I did. Refer anyone to me and I'll be glad to tell them all about my case and what Rheumaloe has done." You don't have to believe what you read here; write Mr. Beck, he'll be glad to tell you more about his case. When you receive his reply, go to Graham & Company's Drug Store, and procure Rheumaloe. It cures rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia, gout and kidney, liver, bladder, stomach and blood troubles caused by uric acid. Rheumaloe Capsules stop pain immediately. Rheumaloe Tablets relieve constipation. Get Rheumaloe at once. It removes the cause.

STANDPATTERS GIVE GROUND.

Conference With Taft Has Had Softening Influence.

TARIFF BILL IS TO BE AMENDED

Impression Prevails in Congressional Circles That Certain Changes Are to Be Made Subject to Approval By Ways and Means Committee.

Washington, April 1.—A compromise is to be agreed to by the various factions on the Republican side of the house regarding the consideration of the Payne tariff bill, and it is confidently expected that the measure will be voted upon on April 10.

There is a noticeable disposition on the part of the "standpatters," following their conference with President Taft, to accede to the wishes of those who have opposed any "rigid rule" which would prevent a vote on certain important schedules. The ways and means committee have agreed to submit amendments to the bill, which will keep the tax on the free list, strike out the countervailing duty on coffee and make the rate on barley twenty-five cents a bushel.

While it probably will be impossible to have a rule to limit amendments favorably acted upon before Monday, Representative Dwight (N. Y.) is making every effort to get the members in line. Speaker Cannon, Chairman Payne and Representative Duffell, in their desire to have the bill passed by the house without delay, are endeavoring to restrict as far as possible the amendments to those which the committee will offer. Representative Tawney (Minn.) and Representative Smith of Iowa are the leaders in the fight to have certain important schedules submitted to a vote by the house.

Fears that the senate will not make changes in the bill which they desire and their determination to satisfy their constituents that they are looking after their interests in the senate are the main reasons certain Republican representatives are holding out for a rule which will permit them to accomplish these objects. Up to this time the "standpatters" have agreed to permit the discussion for amendments of the paragraph on hides and lumber. It probably will be necessary, however, for them to grant the same permission with a regard to the reciprocity clause on bituminous coal and the paragraph which places iron ore on the free list.

James J. Hill, the railroad magnate, called on Speaker Cannon and informally discussed the tariff with him and with members of the tariff framing committee and Representative Tawney of Minnesota. Mr. Hill is understood to be in favor of repealing the duty on lumber, but would not so express himself for publication.

LEAVENWORTH PRISON BURNED.

740 Convicts March to Safety Guarded by Soldiers.

AWED BY LEVELED WEAPONS.

Federal Military Prison Four Miles From Leavenworth, Kan., Scene of Spectacular Blaze This Morning. Panic Among Prisoners.

Leavenworth, Kan., April 1.—The military prison at Fort Leavenworth was destroyed by fire this morning. The prisoners were removed from the cell houses under a heavy guard of United States troops and confined in a stockade.

None of the prisoners escaped, so far as a hasty resume of the situation showed.

Owing to the low water pressure the fire department of the fort was almost useless. The fire was fought by the soldiers of the fort. Two soldiers were injured while fighting the flames, but none of the prisoners was hurt.

Much excitement attended the removal of the prisoners, many of whom are desperate characters. It was feared that they would make an organized break for liberty.

The fire broke out in the tailor shop and soon it was seen that the main building was doomed. A great outcry at once broke out in the prison, the convicts fearing they would be burned to death. They battered on the doors of their cells as the light of the fire streamed in through the windows. Many screamed in terror as the authorities for the moment refused to remove them.

Prisoners March Out.

Soon, however, several companies of soldiers, including cavalrymen, had got under arms. A strong cordon of troops was thrown about the prison and every precaution taken to prevent escapes. All the soldiers that could be spared from the ranks of the first fighters were detailed as guards and then the delivery of the prisoners was begun.

When the bolts of the cell house doors were shot back the flames had reached the main building. If everything had not been done in perfect order lives doubtless would have been lost. As it was, strict military discipline prevailed.

Soldiers with leveled weapons greeted the convicts as they were marched out. They had been previously warned that the slightest bolter would mean death.

Awed by the Regulars.

The rifle barrels of the soldiers and the swords of the officers glistened in the fire light and the knowledge that United States soldiers were dealing with them effectually awed the convicts and they meekly followed their heavily armed guards to the stockade.

At daybreak the military prison inmates, numbering 750, were taken to the government prison half a mile away. It took the whole thirteenth infantry to remove the prisoners safely and to guard them in the stockade.

The sick were placed in ambulances and taken to the Fort Leavenworth hospital under guard of cavalry. The records were removed from the administration building.

Soon after the last convict and attendant had left the building and the cordon of soldiers had withdrawn to a safe distance the walls of the prison fell. The fire started in some rubbish left in a careless manner in the paint and carpenter shop.

PRIEST TOO TRUSTFUL

Father McMahon of Cleveland Owes $1,500,000.

Cleveland, April 1.—The Rev. Father William McMahon has filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy before Judge Taylor in the United States district court, giving his liabilities at $1,500,000 and assets at $75,000.

His insolvency is stated to have grown out of the failure of the Klondike Funding company of New York, which was promoted by P. J. Kieran. Father McMahon is said to have been a director of the company and indebted many of its notes.

Attorney Brady, counsel for the priest, made a statement for the latter. He said:

"Father McMahon realized that bankruptcy was the only course for him to pursue. He is an old man, broken in health. He was led on by the smooth talk of Kieran, in whom he trusted. The priest would sign any paper that Kieran requested him to sign. For a long time Father McMahon told no one of his entanglements. His friends warned him that they believed the deals in which he was involved with Kieran were not just right, but he would not believe them."

TWO DEAD, FOUR SHUT IN

Fatal Mine Accident at Beury, Fayette County, W. Va.

Charleston, W. Va., April 1.—Two men were instantly killed and four others are entombed as a result of an explosion in the Echo mine at Beury, Fayette county. Two other men, injured by the explosion, were rescued.

The rescue party held out some hope for the four entombed men, as a small opening to the mine was discovered which may supply them air.

TO IGNORE COURT ORDER.

Scranton Saloon Men Keep Open, All Night.

Scranton, Pa., April 1.—The Retail Liquor Dealers' association has voted to ignore the order of the local court directing that all bars should close between midnight and 5 a. m. In Luzerne county an organization of reformers petitioned for the midnight rule there, but the court refused it, saying that the Brooks high license law prescribed when the saloons should open and close and it was not for the court to amend the law. On the strength of this ruling the local liquor dealers have decided to test the validity of the early closing order.

The spokesman of the liquor dealers said to the press representatives: "We have no statement to make except that we voted to observe the Brooks law under which we are licensed and to be regulated by it."

For the first time in twelve months the city saloons remained open all night.

WON'T WEAR KNEE PANTS

Dr. Elliot's Simplicity Commands Him to London Newspapers.

London, April 1.—American correspondence in this morning's London newspapers is enthusiastic at the prospective appointment of Charles W. Elliot as ambassador to the court of St. James. The opinion is expressed that his lack of wealth will not detract from his usefulness. The probability that Dr. Elliot will not adopt the knee breeches and short sword of some of his recent predecessors is favorably commented upon. It is believed that Americans generally are desirous that their ambassadors adopt a greater simplicity in style.

The Daily Mail, describing Dr. Elliot as "America's first citizen," says that the United States could have no finer representative.

Dr. Elliot to Be Decorated.

Washington, April 1.—President Elliot of Harvard University is to be decorated by the mikado of Japan with the Order of the Rising Sun, first class.

SAVED BY PRAYER

Minister Brings Young Man Back From Brink of the Grave.

St. Louis, April 1.—The Rev. William Smith, pastor of Memorial Congregational church, tells how, by application of the principles of the Emmanuel movement, he cured Robert Lorens, then a church member, after medical practitioners had pronounced Lorens' dying of typhoid fever.

"The means by which I brought Robert Lorens from death's door," he explained, "was the suggestion that faith is needed in addition to medicine to work a cure such as this. I first remained with him long enough to repeat a few verses on faith and offer a prayer. Next day I found he had rallied and, remaining ten minutes, I read verses. Soon he recovered and joined the Presbyterian church at Kirkwood, Mo."

ARRAIGNED IN MERCER

Sharonites Denied a Glimpse of Mrs. James H. Boyle.

Mercer, Pa., April 1.—Mrs. James H. Boyle was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Thomas W. McClinton in Mercer.

She said that she desired to waive a hearing, and she was remanded to the custody of Sheriff William Chiles to await the action of the April grand jury. Dall was fixed at the same amount as in her husband's case, $25,000. When asked by the justice if she could furnish bail she replied: "Not that I know of."

SWAIN AXES HIMSELF

Because Girl Goes to Dance With Another Fellow.

Fayetteville, W. Va., April 1.—Because his sweetheart attended a dance with another young man, Harry Gibson struck himself on the head with an ax. Being unable to kill himself, he handed the ax to his roommate asking the latter to kill him. Gibson was disarmed and a policeman summoned.

The victim was taken to a hospital, where it is said his injuries may prove fatal.

POLLY of the CIRCUS

BY MARGARET MAYO

COPYRIGHT, 1934, BY DODD, MEAD AND COMPANY

Ambitious carmen and grooms were exercising, feet in air, in the hope of some day getting into the performers' ring. Property men stole a minute's sleep in the soft, warm grass while they waited for more tackle to load in the wagons. Children of the performers were swinging on the taut ropes. Chattering monkeys sat astride the Shetland ponies, awaiting their entrance to the ring. The shrieks of the arenas in the distant stadium, the roaring of the flares and the trumpeting of the elephants mingled with the incessant clamor of the band. And back of all this, pointing upward in mute protest, rose a solemn church spire white with marble against a vast panorama of blue, moonlit hills that outlined the whole lurid picture. Jim's eyes turned absently toward the church as he sat fumbling with the lock of the little brown satchel.

He had gone from store to store in the various towns where they had played looking for something to inspire wonder in the heart of a newly arrived at her sixteenth year. Only the desperation of a last moment had forced him to decide upon the fat-tailed alligator bag, which he now held in his hand.

It looked small and mean to him as the moment of presentation approached, and he was glad that the saleswoman in the little country store had suggested the addition of ribbons and lace, which he now drew from the pocket of his corduroys. He placed the red and blue treasures very carefully in the bottom of the satchel and remembered with regret the strand of coral beads which he had so nearly bought to go with them.

He opened the large property trunk by his side and took from it a laundry box which held a little tin coat that was to be Polly's contribution to the birthday surprise. He was just fastening the lid when he heard a voice behind him. "It was only when the 'clap of drums' act, preceding 'Polly's' turn, was announced that the big fellow gave up frowning his eyes on the satchel and went and hid himself in the property trunk. She would be out in a minute, and these wonders were not to be revealed to her until the close of the night's performance."

Jim put down the lid of the trunk and went to him, feeling like a criminal because he was hiding something from Polly.

His consciousness of guilt was increased as he recalled how often she had forbidden Toby and himself to rush into reckless extravagances for her sake and how she had been more than ready to touch the back of her head when they had put their month's salaries together to buy her the spangled dress for her first appearance. It had taken a great many apologies and promises as to their future behavior to calm her, and now they had again discovered her. It would be a real relief when tonight's ordeal was over.

Jim watched Polly anxiously as she came from the dressing tent and stopped to gaze at the nearly church-steeple. The incongruity of the thing that came from her delicately formed lips was lost upon him as she turned her eyes toward him.

"Say, Jim," she said, with a western drawl, "them's a funny lot of gaudy what's-ya-calls 'em church pieces, ain't they?"

"Most everybody has got some kind of a bug," Jim assented. "I guess they don't do much for 'em."

"Member the time you took me into one of them places to get me outa the rain, the Sunday our wagon broke down? Well, that bunch we buttoned wouldn't 'a' give Sella Bros. no cause for worry with that 'clap of drums' act, would they? Jim? She looked at him with withering disgust. "Say, wasn't that the punkiest stunt that fellow in black was doin' on the platform? You said Joe was only ten minutes gettin' the fire on our wheels; but say, you take it from me, Jim, if he had to wait another ten minutes as long as that one I'd be too old to go on a ride."

"Jim," "towed" some church shows might be better than that un," but Polly said he could have her end of the bet and assumed up by declaring it no wonder like "the tape in these towns is dark about churches if they don't have nobin' better 'n church shows to go to."

One of the grooms was entering the lot with Polly's horse. She stooped to tighten one of her sandals, and as she rose Jim saw her swing slightly and put her hand to her head. He looked at her sharply, remembering her faintness in the parade that morning.

"You ain't feelin' right," he said uneasily.

"You just bet I am," Polly answered, with an independent toss of her head. "This is the night when I'm gonna show 'em I'm here to stay, ain't it? (Bingo)" she added, placing one arm affectionately about the neck of the big white horse that stood waiting near the entrance.

"You bin ridin' too reckless lately," said Jim sternly as he followed her. "I don't like it. You bet no more of your puttin' in all them extra stunts. Your act is good enough without 'em. Nobody else ever done 'em, an' nobody 'a' takes 'em if you left 'em out."

Polly turned with a triumphant ring in her voice. The music was swelling for her entrance.

"You ain't my mother, Jim, you're my grandmother," she laughed, and

"Most everybody has got some kind of a bug," Jim assented.

with a crack of her whip she was away on Bingo's back.

"It's the spirit of the dead one that's got into her," Jim mumbled as he turned away, still seeing the flash in the departing girl's eyes.

CHAPTER III

POLLY and Bingo always made the audience "sit up" when they swept into the ring. She was so young, so girly clad, so light and joyous in all her poses. She seemed ready to touch the back of the white horse as they dashed round the ring in the glare of the tent lights. The other performers went through their work mechanically while Polly rode.

As for Polly, her work had never lost its freshness. Jim was never been right when he said that the spirit of the dead mother had not got into her, but it must have been an unsatisfied spirit, unable to fulfill its ambition in the body that once held it, for it sometimes played strange pranks with Polly.

Twilight, her eyes ached and her lips were dry. In anticipation as she leaped lightly over the many colored streamers of the wheel of sixteen ribbons held by Barker in the center of the ring and by Toby and the tumbler on the edge of the bank.

With each change of her act the audience cheered and enthusiastically applauded. The band played faster. Bingo's pace increased; the end of her turn was coming. The tumbler arranged themselves around the ring with paper hoops. Bingo was fairly racing. She went through the first hoop with a crash of tearing paper.

"Heigh, Bingo!" she shouted as she sent her knees to make ready for the final leap.

"Bingo's neck was stretched." He had never gone so fast before. Barker looked uneasy. "Toby, forget to go on with his accustomed tricks. Jim watched anxiously from the entrance.

The paper of one hoop was still left unbroken. The attendant turned his eyes to glance at the oncoming girl. The hoop shifted slightly in his clumsy hand as Polly leaped straight up from Bingo's back, trusting to her first calculation. Her forehead struck the edge of the hoop. She clutched wildly at the air. Bingo galloped on, and she fell to the ground, striking her head against the ironbound stake at the edge of the ring.

"Excuse me," there was a snap of terror. The musicians dropped their instruments. Bingo halted and looked back uneasily. She lay unconscious and seemingly lifeless.

A great cry went up in the tent. Panic-stricken men, women and children began to climb down from their seats, while others nearest the ground attempted to jump into the ring. Barker, still grasping his long whip, rushed to the girl's side and shouted wildly to Toby.

"Say something, you. Get 'em back!"

Old Toby turned his white face to the crowd. His features worked convulsively, but he could not speak. His grief was so poignant that the few who saw him laughed hysterically. He could not even go to Polly. His feet seemed pinned to the earth.

Jim rushed into the tent at the first cry of the audience. He lifted the limp form tenderly and, kneeling in the ring, held her bruised head in his hands.

"Can't you get a doctor?" he shouted desperately to Barker.

"Here's the doctor," some one called, and a stranger came toward them. He bent over the seemingly lifeless form, his fingers on the tiny wrist, his ear to the heart.

"Well, sir?" Jim faltered, for he had caught the puzzled look in the doctor's eyes as his deft hand pressed the cruelly wounded head.

"I can't tell just yet," said the doctor. "She must be taken away."

"Where can we take her?" asked Jim, a look of terror in his great, troubled eyes.

"The personage is the nearest house," said the doctor. "I am sure the pastor will be glad to have her there until we can find out how badly she is hurt."

In an instant Barker was back in the center of the ring. He announced that Polly's injuries were slight, called the attention of the audience to the wonderful concert to take place and bade them make ready for the thrilling chariot race.

Jim, blind with despair, lifted the light burden and staggered out of the tent, while the band played furiously and the people fell back into their seats. The Roman chariots thundered.

BINGO GALLOPED ON, AND SHE FELL TO THE GROUND.

and clattered around the outside of the ring; the audience cheered the winner of the race, and for the moment Polly was forgotten.

CHAPTER IV

THE glare of the circus band had been a sore temptation to Mandy Jones all afternoon and evening. Again and again it had dragged her from her work to the study window, from which she could see the wonders so tactfully near.

Mandy was housekeeper for the Rev. John Douglas, but the unwashed supper dishes did not trouble her as she watched the lumbering elephants, the restless lions, the long-necked giraffes and the striped zebras that came and went in the nearby circus lot. And yet, in spite of her own curiosity, she could not forgive her vagrant "worse half," Hasty, who had been lured from duty early in the day. She had once dubbed him Hasty in a spirit of derision, and the name had clung to him. The sarcasm seemed doubly appropriate tonight, for he had been away since 10 that morning, and it was now past 9.

Kittani's offense is that he preached a "holy war" in support of the pretender to the Moroccan throne. The ecclesiastical authorities, who are in league with Sultan Mohammed VI. ## NEWS OF A DAY IN SCOTSDALE.

J. C. Kelly, Master Mechanic For Frick Company, Seeks Simple Life.

OLD MEADOW MILL RUMORS

Said That It Will Start Up Next Monday—Bible Class Elects Officers.
Think Spring Has Arrived in Scotdale—Other Notes of News.

SCOTSDALE, April 1.—J. C. Kelly, master mechanic of the H. C. Frick Coke Company, and one of the best known men in the Connellsville coke region, has, for a time at least, renounced the world of mechanics and has turned his attention to nature, having bought a beautiful farm in the famous limestone lands of Blair county. His postoffice address after this week will be Martinsburg, Blair county, and the rural postman will take the mail right to the farm. The family has moved down there now and the spring work has been commenced by Mr. Kelly's two stalwart sons. This is the second veteran of the Frick company to turn to farming this month. James Caldwell, stable boss at Eagle for a quarter of a century, having bought a stock farm near Cambridge Springs. Mr. Kelly's attention was first drawn to where he is going to locate by a trip he made to Professor P. H. Bredenbaugh's at Martinsburg, where he and Mrs. Kelly and the family spent some delightful time, looking over the beautiful farming land of that locality. Prof. Bredenbaugh has opened larger quarters this year for the accommodation of guests and doubtless others will be attracted to that lovely section. There are 112 acres in the farm Mr. Kelly has bought and there are 13 acres of orchard. Mr. Kelly will specialize on poultry and give the general farming over to his sons. The farm has a 10-room house, a great barn, a brick blacksmith shop, brick smokehouse and is up to date and in prosperous condition. His many friends here regret to see him leave and wish him good luck. He has been with the Frick people for the last 10 years and is counted one of their best men. Joseph McClellan, steam fitter for the same company, will move into the house Mr. Kelly has vacated in the Fourth Ward.

A Daughter Born.
A daughter was born to Rev. and Mrs. Archibald Auld of 314 Chestnut street, Wednesday morning, and mother and child are getting along nicely.

And Spring Has Come.
Well, spring is here once more, without any doubt. Of course boys have been playing marbles in a way for several weeks but only to make spring seem uncertain in the face of the weather that has followed the marble playing, and kids have been putting up kites for a few days, but the real, glad-some finishing touch to the stage setting for "Spring" was made yesterday, when a little German band strolled the street and made melody that felt upon willing ears.

In the Moving Business.
John Stauffer has gone into the general tenting and moving business and located in the old Anderson stand on Stouffer street, where he has a number of wagons and vans ready for the business of this season's moving.

Observer on the Flit.
J. Howard Cramer and his force are enjoying the moving of The Observer office from Pittsburg street to Spring street today. The Observer came out yesterday a day earlier and Editor Cramer remarks editorially, in explaining the appearance of his paper the day previous to the real date: "The reason for this is that tomorrow is moving day for The Observer and that it is no April fool joke but a stern and solemn fact. A household moving is at best a nightmare, but moving a printing office is several times worse."

Old Meadow Stories.
Rumors have been growing strong all week that the Old Meadow plant of the American Sheet & Tin Plate Company will resume next Monday in full. The officials of the company here say they have received no instructions from headquarters to start up, or had not at least at the time the query was put to them, although the orders usually arrive by telegraph and people generally about town have been anticipating such word at almost any minute, and anxiously hoping that it may come. The Old Meadow has been shut down for a long time, and its resumption will be hailed with delight by everybody.

Anniversary Service.
The Women's Missionary Association of Owensdale will hold its anniversary service in the United Brethren Church of that place Sunday evening, April 4th, at 7:30. Mrs. L. H. Leitman of Scottdale, who is an efficient speaker, will deliver the evening address. All are cordially invited.

Bible Class Officers.
The Bible Class that has been organized under the influence of Rev. M. C. Curran, who has been holding subson services in the Riches & Grant building, will hold their first meeting at the Y. M. C. A. next Tuesday evening at 7:30, with a study of the third, fourth and fifth chapters of Genesis, under the chapter summary method of study which has been adopted. The officers of the class are as follows: C. L. Graft, President; Edgar Atkins, Vice President; Miss Viola Newling, Secretary; George Guest, Assistant Secretary; Robert Ritchey, Treasurer; Miss Jennie Ritchey, Organist; Mrs. Robert Ritchey, Assistant Organist; Daniel Shupe, Leader; George Harter and W. J. Graft, Assistant Leaders.

"Polly of the Circus."
The first installment of "Polly of the Circus," which was published in The Courier yesterday, caused a great deal of pleasure to all those who read the opening of this delightful story. A very large number of Scottdale people were pleased with the play a couple of weeks ago at Connellsville and so many more heard "Polly" spoken of, that The Courier made a great stroke in securing this clever story for publication here.

Danger To Life.
The speed limit of automobiles will be increased to 24 miles an hour on suburban and country roads and 15 miles in towns with consequent increase in danger to life and also in damages to roads which you must pay, unless you use your personal influence at once upon your Representative to oppose Senate Bill No. 85 now in the House.

Seven distinct models to choose among; fashioned from the newest weaves in fancy worsteds and tailored in the very newest styles. Extremely distinctive in their lines and fabrics are of pure wool. This will make two hundred suits of this description that we have bought. A hundred of them in each store. No competitive concern could buy and sell that many of one line of suits. We can and that's why we could dictate the purchasing price and according to the saving we gained so we're selling them. Your saving will be most apparent to you upon inspection. A printed price tells of the facts and details, but it's the suits themselves that speak most tellingly of the real worth of any offering. Only fifty of these at each store and if we can judge by past performances they'll go in a jiffy.
